

CONCLUSION PARAGRAPHS

WHAT'S A CONCLUSION?

A conclusion paragraph is the place to answer the question "so what?" and show the relevance of ideas and themes brought forth earlier in the paper. Restating themes/thesis, sharing opinions, possible implications, and calls to action are all appropriate things to include in a conclusion paragraph.

The goal is to tie everything together, and show the reader that the paper accomplished everything it was intended to do.

TRANSITION AMONG DISCIPLINES

HOW DO I START?
